Sandra DeCrane

CED's new Owner and President

Custom Equipment Design, Inc., Under New Ownership/Management

March 15, 2010 (Monroe, LA)

After nearly 30 years of hard work and many long hours, the founder of Custom Equipment Design, Inc. (CED), Chuck DeCrane, is stepping down from the day-to-day operations. In his footsteps will follow his daughter, Sandra (Sandy) DeCrane, as the new owner and president of CED, effective immediately. Sandy brings more than 20 years of experience in the packaging industry, starting her career with CED in 1990. Her many areas of expertise include managing client orders and projects, contracts, purchasing, inventory, and shipping.

"I have made the commitment to both Chuck and the employees of Custom Equipment Design that the successes we have experienced in the past will continue under my leadership," said Ms. DeCrane. "Our customers can be assured that the positive principles CED was founded on will remain our continued top priority, with a constant commitment to our number one goal, customer satisfaction."

Chuck DeCrane will remain with the company as a consultant to the engineering department and client relations.

Custom Equipment Design continues to be the innovator in the dry semi-bulk packaging industry, offering the most up-to-date equipment for optimum performance and efficiency. CED has been instrumental in the development of labor-saving, high-efficiency packaging systems, offering start-to-finish high production FIBC (bulk bag) packaging lines.
